Read the following passage and answer the following questions. (۴p):

Researchers say only two female Asiatic cheetahs are alive in the wild in Iran, which hosts this beautiful animal.

Asiatic cheetahs, also known as Iranian cheetahs, are the fastest animals on earth and classified as endangered animal with fewer than ۴۰ believed to be alive in Iran.

As part of efforts to increase the animal's profile, in the past ten years cheetahs' pictures have been displayed on the national football team's T-shirt.

In the past ۱۰ years, ۴۸ cheetahs are believed to have died, seven from natural causes, ۲۱ at the hands of farmers, ۱۰ in car accidents and five by hunters.

Of the two female cheetahs believed to be still alive, one is in Tooran national park and the other one in the nearby Miandasht plain.

More than half of the blood is plasma. This is a clear, yellow liquid, which carries all the blood cells and chemicals such as hormones and glucose.

It is good to know What do they do? The answer is: Red blood cells carry oxygen around the body, and collect carbon dioxide and take it back to the lungs where it can be sent out. There are millions of red blood cells in one small drop of blood.

Do you know Why are they red?! These cells are red because they have a red-colored chemical called hemoglobin. They live for about 4 months. But you should know all the cells in blood are not red. White blood cells are white and they do not carry oxygen, They defend the body against microbes. It is amazing that the number of white cells increases when you are sick.

G .Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions as required.(4 points)

Passage 1(4 points)

Many people think that the BBC news programs are better than those on other channels because the BBC is not a commercial company. It pays for its programs from the television license money everyone must pay if they have a television.

The BBC ,which is often known as "auntie", is the biggest news collecting operation in the world. It has the world's largest network of foreign correspondents. Ten percent of the BBC's annual budget is spent on news collecting, reporting and presenting. More than 1700 people work for the BBC news service.

The BBC produces more than 214 hours of news and current affairs programs for radio and television each week. Each television news program costs about £ 78000 (US $117000) per hour and each radio news program costs roughly £4800 (US $7200) per hour. In the UK, roughly 19 million people- almost 35% of the total population- watch the BBC television news programs every day.

Departments in technology are improving news collection and presentation every year. The BBC now uses special robotic cameras in the TV news studios to film the news presenters, and captions- the words and sentences at the bottom of the screen- are now produced automatically by computer.

1. How does the BBC pay for its programs?

2. What new technologies is the BBC using today?

.....

3. How many people watch the BBC television news programs every day?

4. The BBC has the world's largest network of foreign reporters. 1)True 2)False

5. The BBC is the least important news collecting operation in the world. 1)True 2)False

First Term Final 2018Instructor: Khodadadi*Vision 1*Time: 60 minutes*Passage 2*(3 points)

Air holds a mere trace of Carbon Dioxide about 0.05 per cent. Small as it is, plants and animals depend upon this trace for life. Green plants combine the carbon dioxide with water to make sugar by the process called photosynthesis. From the sugar, the plants then make starch and cellulose. Animals eat the plants, and in getting energy from the food, they return carbon dioxide to the air. From the air the gas enters again into more photosynthesis in an endless cycle of carbon dioxide use.

1. What is the main idea of the paragraph?

- 1) Carbon dioxide is very important.
- 2) Photosynthesis means making sugar from water and carbon dioxide.
- 3) There is very little carbon dioxide.
- 4) Plants make starch from sugar

2. Photosynthesis is the process by which

- 1) carbon dioxide makes sugar, water and green plants.
- 2) carbon dioxide is made from sugar and water.
- 3) green plants produce carbon dioxide.
- 4) sugar is made from carbon dioxide and water.

3. The underlined word "they" refers to

- 1) animals
- 2) starch and cellulose
- 3) plants
- 4) traces of carbon dioxide

What little things can make you cough and sneeze and stay in bed for days? Germs! Germs are so small that you need a microscope to see them. They are found all over the world. They spread when someone sneezes or coughs. Then, they enter our body and make us sick. Germs produce a toxin. Toxin is like a poison. Some germs cause a fever. Others make us tired. Some cause a rash or red spots on your skin. You can protect yourself from germs by washing your hands a lot. Cover your mouth when you cough. Sneeze into the crook of your arm or use a tissue. Then, wash your hands again!

35. Which sentence is true?

a. You can see germs on your arm. c. You need a microscope to see germs.
b. Germs are found only in America. d. All germs keep us healthy.

36. In this story, the word toxin means _____.

N: Read the passage and answer.

At school, we have different school subjects for example English, biology, geography, history, etc. In our biology class, we get familiar with different parts of the body and learn how they work. We learn new things about heart, blood, plasma, etc.

Now I know that heart is the most important organ in our body which pumps blood all around the body. Blood carries white and red cells and plasma to send oxygen to different organs. We study about the Earth and other planets in geography class. They go around the Sun in different orbits. They have different colors and sizes. We can see some planets with a telescope. Jupiter is the largest one. It has more than sixty moons. Learning about planets is really interesting.

a) True or False. (1)

52. All planets are the same in terms of color. ()
53. Plasma is a very important organ. ()

b) Answer. (2)

54. What does the heart do?

.....
 °°. What do we learn in biology class?

O: Read the passage and answer the questions.

Today, some type of animals are an endangered species. This means there are very few animals of that kind left on Earth. The animals could face extinction. Extinction is when all the animals of that kind die. When a type of animal is extinct, it is gone forever.

One problem for animals is that their habitat is sometimes destroyed by humans. As human populations increase, more and more space is needed for people. Building areas for people to live pushed animals out of their natural homes. Forest and swamp habitats are the most threatened. Trees are cut down to make room for homes and businesses. Swamps are filled in so that neighborhoods can expand. The habitat is destroyed. The animals have nowhere else to go. Without a habitat, the number of animals begins to go down.

Humans must prevent the extinction of animals due to the loss of their habitat. We have to become more aware of animal populations when considering building and expansion projects. Other options may not be as convenient, but the survival of the animals needs to be taken into consideration. Better planning and an awareness of how human actions affect animals can make a difference. It is still possible to maintain a diverse animal population for next generations to enjoy.

Another major cause of endangerment of animals is overhunting by humans. The practice of shooting animals as a sport can quickly bring the animals to extinction. This is a worldwide problem. The governments of countries around the world must unite to agree on laws regarding animals. Some animals may have large enough populations so hunting will not endanger them. Others must be protected.

There is still hope for animals who are already on the endangered species list. Some organizations are working hard to recreate habitats for them. Breeding programs are helping animal populations increase. We all have to be aware and think before we act. The things we do can affect more than just ourselves.

a) True or False. (1)

- 56. "Habitat" means the number of animals living somewhere. ()
- 57. Some animals are endangered because people recreate their natural homes. ()

b) Answer. (2)

58. What statement supports the idea that the author believes animals need to be protected?

.....
 59. What would be the result if worldwide laws were passed to protect animal habitats?

6	II. Reading Comprehension Read the following text and answer the question. “ One easy way to protect wildlife is to slow down when driving. Many animals live in developed areas and this means they must find their homes in places full of human dangers. One of the biggest dangers is roads. Roads divide the natural home of these animals and endanger them trying to cross from one side to the other side. So, when you are out, slow down and be more careful about nature. This needs to have information about animals living nearby. Another easy way is to protect the environment around you. Perhaps the greatest danger is destroying their natural home. Scientists tell us the best way to protect the endangered animals is to save the special places where they live and find food. In winter they have difficulty finding food for their children. Some people give them food and help them against being hurt by hunters and other people . Making national wildlife museums teach people more about different animals and their homes. This make people to pay more attention to wildlife and animals.” 20-There are many ways to protect animals and plants. (T / F) 21-It is easy for animals to find food . (T / F) 22-There are only 4 ways to protect wildlife.
